He announces a progressive policy, and says that the work of construction can be and will be soon resumed.

The Settlement between Pacific Mail and Panama Railway.

NEW YORK, April 24.—A settlement of questions in regard to freight and passenger fares pending between the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Railroad Company was reached yesterday by a new contract. It is agreed on the part of the Pacific Mail Company to guarantee to the Panama Railroad $60,000 per month of through freight, which is an increase of about $1,800 over the business received by that road last year. It is also agreed that that road shall have the same number of passengers guaranteed to it as it had last year, during which time it accumulated to about $100,000. By the terms of the contract the Railroad Co. is to have one-third of the freights received from the Panama trade, which has developed largely during the last few years; the road's share of which will be about $60,000. The steamship company have further agreed that all coal sent from New York is to be used by their vessels, shall be sent by the road and paid for at the rate of $5 25 per ton. Local rates for South America and Central America are to be conducted as before. The contract will be for five years, in character, and subject to change or cancellation by either party upon thirty days' notice.

St. Paul makes a Point on Minneapolis.

ST. PAUL, April 24.—A good deal of consternation and no little anxiety is reported at Minneapolis, owing to another break in the Red River dam, which has given so much trouble heretofore. An immense amount of private, corporation and government money has been expended in endeavors to patch up this unfortunate hole, and thus to prepare the mills and the water power. The extent of the present disaster is not publicly known, those who are conversant with the matter being extremely reticent for fear the credit of the city and business men will suffer. The dam cannot possibly be repaired until the water in the Mississippi falls very materially. The river is now on the decline, but is still a high stage.

Preparations for Conferring the Red Hat.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Preparations for conferring the red hat on Cardinal McCloskey are almost complete. The programme for religious service is very elaborate. At the conclusion of high mass the cardinal will take the scarlet berreta and present it to ... of Baltimore, who will then perform the ceremony of imposition. He will deliver an ... which will be replied to by the cardinal, ... which a choir of 100 voices will sing a Te Deum ... composed expressly for the ceremony. The cardinal then will retire and after putting on the robes of his cardinalate, will re-enter the sanctuary and ... an episcopal benediction.

The Situation on the Union Pacific.

OMAHA, April 24.—The situation on the Union Pacific is practically unchanged. Since yesterday the same storm has prevailed over the entire line from Evanston to North Platte. In some places it fell to the depth of five inches. It will make the transfer more laborious and uncomfortable. Everything is being done to relieve it. All delayed Eastbound passengers and mails passed the break this afternoon. West-bound passengers are not yet cleared, but if the expected passenger cars arrive from the East to-morrow, every passenger will be started to-morrow night. Two bridges, each 180 feet long, remain to be rebuilt. One of them will be finished to-morrow, the other on Tuesday, and tracks will be finished by that time. The Bitter creek wash-out will be passable, but not the whole job shape.

NEW YORK, April 24.—No California mail has arrived here since that of the 10th, nor can we ascertain that the daily mails are moving either way.

The Louisiana Legislature.

NEW ORLEANS, April 24.—Both houses of the legislature adjourned sine die to-day. In the Senate, a resolution suspending Auditor Clinton from office was postponed till the session of 1876.

NEW ORLEANS, April 24.—But few if any reform measures were finally passed by the legislature.

Mexican Raids Continue.

Texas still continue to report robberies and murders by roving bands of Mexicans, and intense feelings of indignation among white settlers on the border at the continued outrages, which appear to be committed with impunity, so far as either government is concerned.

Rifle Shooting.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The first day's shooting for position in the American Team which is to compete with the Irish Team in Ireland, in June next, was had to-day on the range at Creedmore. A strong breeze was blowing all day from the northwest, increasing to a gale towards evening. General Dakin, Captain Pulton, Lieut. Anderson, Col. Gildersleeve and Messrs. Yale and Crouch were only shooting for practice, but the others were competing for position. The ranges were 800, 900 and 1,000 yards. Those who made 100 points and over were as follows: Gen. Dakin, Gen. J. P. Hawley, Captain Fulton, Lieut. A. Anderson, Col. Gildersleeve, R. C. Edwards, Capt. J. C. Bruce, H. S. Jewell, A. V. Canfield, Jr., G. W. Yale, L. M. Bullard, J. S. Latimer, J. H. Sanford, P. G. Sanford, Geo. C. Crouch.

Suspiciously Definite and Accurate.

NEW YORK, April 24.—The restaurant keeper, at whose place Beecher dined the day of the suit, has been found. He was struck by reading Beecher's testimony that about the time mentioned, Mr. and Mrs. Beecher took lunch together in his saloon. He had made a memorandum of the circumstance at the time. On looking over his books he found the date corresponded with the one mentioned by Beecher. He had sent word that he is willing to testify.

O'Leary Outwalks Himself.

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Last night at 12 o'clock Daniel O'Leary, of Chicago, began to walk 115 miles, to be accomplished in 24 hours. To-night at 3 minutes after 11 he completed the distance of 116 miles, thus beating his distance with a mile to spare, 23 minutes less than the time set down. This is the best time on record.

Arrest of a Smuggler.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Charles L. Lawrence, secretary of the American Club and a fugitive smuggler, is expected here from England next week, in the custody of an officer who followed him since last February. The value of silks and laces which Lawrence smuggled through is estimated at three million dollars. The frauds began four or five years ago, under a deputy collector in the custom house, and Lawrence is said to be worth half a million, mostly in bonds. What real estate he has is in his wife's hands and cannot be attached.

Delano's early retirement is conceded by some who stoutly deny that the resignation is forced or consequent upon any official irregularity. The President emphatically says he has always considered Delano as an honest and efficient executive officer. Delano's immediate friends say the President has told him that he has never thought of asking him to resign, and that consequently Delano will remain in the Cabinet.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

The Colonist says: The Fraser having fallen very low, Lillooet Indians put in a wing-dam at the head of Foster's bar and took out $1,500 in gold in a few days' time.

The gold yield of Lightning creek last week was: Victoria Co., $10,080; Van Winkle, $1,680; Vancouver, $1,200. The Vancouver Co. have stopped operations owing to the freshet.

A correspondent of the Victoria Standard estimates that there are nearly 700 men in the Cassiar mines, and between there and the boundary line. The weather was still intensely cold on the 6th inst.

On Tuesday the river opposite Dale rose 18 feet in an hour or two. Immense quantities of ice and driftwood came booming down stream, evidently the result of the giving way of an ice gorge high up in the mountains. The Fraser opposite New Westminster was filled with cakes of ice, which the paddle of the steamer Enterprise frequently struck with great force.

A letter from Clinton, dated April 7th, says: This is a very backward spring. Yesterday the thermometer stood at 2 degs. below zero, and the sleighing from here up to Cariboo is as good as at any time this winter—in fact, there was less snow here six weeks ago than to-day. Before this last cold snap a traveler in the Lac la Hache valley could count dead cattle by the hundred, and I am afraid now the dead will run up to thousands, the hay being nearly all gone.

Of the work on the Canadian Pacific railroad the Colonist says: Two hundred pack animals have been ordered from Kamloops to Shda creek, and supplies are being sent forward. It is to be presumed from these movements that a strong force of engineers will proceed to survey between Fort Colvile and the Rockies, and between Fort George and the seaboard, whenever the parties arrive from Ottawa, which they are expected to do on the 2d prox. A considerable number of men, to complete the parties, will doubtless be required.

BEEF PACKING.

In a letter to the Mountaineer Mr. Thomas Cross says:

In order to show the cost of packing beef at the Dalles and shipping the same to Liverpool, I will take as an example one beef steer weighing 700 pounds. After the shanks, kidneys and some bones—such as are usually taken out—it would only leave 600; or three barrels of 200 each. The following is an average estimate of the cost of barrel, labor, salt, freight, commission, cartage, wharfage and storage of one barrel of beef delivered at Liverpool:

Barrel	$2 10
Labor	1 00
Salt and pickle	1 00
Freight on Columbia river	2 00
Freight to Liverpool	3 00
Total cost of one barrel	$9 00

As each bullock will make three barrels, the total cost would be $27 30. From this deduct $4 for the hide and $2 for the tallow, and you have left a cost of at least $21 each.

I copy the following from a letter received from Messrs. Allen & Lewis, San Francisco: "The ship Baltic, one of the largest ships in the world, took a lot of your beef as stores, and at Liverpool put it on the wharf for inspection, and it was so handsome and good that all the ship captains came to look at it, and agreed that they had never seen better beef." This beef was put up for the San Francisco market, and not expected to go through the tropics.

I furnished the P. M. S. S. Co. for a number of years with beef for their ships going through the tropics, and they inform me they never lost a barrel.

It is reported to be the opinion of the leading Democrats in Tennessee that Andy Johnson contributed quite materially toward procuring the indorsement of Grant's course in Louisiana. Hence it is inferred by these leading Democrats that it was a great mistake to send Andy to the Senate. Nonsense. The indorsement of Grant's course so far as the resolution adopted constitutes an indorsement, was determined upon before Andy opened his mouth in the Senate to say anything more than yea or nay. His chaotic tirade had no effect whatever upon the action of a single Senator. It did not even provoke a reply from any Republican Senator, and it is not very likely that any future effort of his will produce any such effect.—Chicago Times.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Harry Meiggs Suspends Payment.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—Private advices from Peru report that Harry Meiggs & Co. suspended payment on the day the last steamer sailed. During the last year the Peruvian government has failed to meet its contracts with him, so that he has been forced to discharge over 1,000 workmen, and pay the remaining thousands out of his own pocket, or risk forfeiting his claim for work already completed. He has been obliged to sacrifice every available security in the daily hope of assistance from the Cortes, which has at last failed him, and necessitated a suspension.

The "Post" Libel Case.

The libel case of members of the Sacramento police force against Harry George, of the Evening Post, was called to-day in the police court at Sacramento. Preliminary examination was waived, and defendant was put under bonds of $1,000 to appear before the grand jury.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—The young men's Republican club held an exciting meeting last evening in lower Dashaway Hall. There was a large attendance, including delegations from the custom house and other departments under the patronage of the federal government. The chairman of the committee on constitution and by-laws reported a platform in substance demanding the nomination for State and municipal officers of honest and capable men, who shall be held strictly responsible for the management of the details of their offices; honest and economical administration of the government; equal assessment of property; vesting of ownership and control of the water front, gas and water works of San Francisco in the municipality; absolute control of local affairs by municipal authorities, free from legislative interference, including the new city charter; that private corporations holding a monopoly of commmication derive their powers from the people, and should be held responsible to them for the manner in which such powers are exercised; that interference of corporations with the affairs of government has become a gigantic evil, and demanding from candidates absolute freedom from such influences; deprecating Chinese immigration; and urging the adoption of all lawful means to prevent it; that the perpetuity of American institutions rests upon common schools, and demanding the maintenance of a strictly unsectarian public school system and compulsory education.

The chairman supported the resolutions in a speech. The custom-house clique made several attempts to choke him off. One Democrat obtained the floor and chimed that the adoption of the platform would drive men from the ranks. The adoption was indefinitely postponed by a vote of 25 to 23. An exciting debate followed, in which a member insinuated that the management of the party was not in good hands, and that attempts were made to choke him off because he knew too much of what was going on inside. Several members expressed a determination to revive the question of the adoption of the platform, notwithstanding the custom house opposition.

The second trial of Alfred Eckstein, on the charge of having uttered forged poll tax receipts, which has been before the municipal criminal court some days, terminated yesterday. The afternoon and evening were occupied by counsel in arguing the case. At a little after 10 o'clock the jury retired, and in half an hour returned a verdict of not guilty. A number of indictments yet remain against Eckstein.

Arrival of the First Through Train.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The first through train from the East arrived last night, comprising three sleepers, four first class and two second class carriages, containing about 640 passengers. New York mails of the 9th and 10th inst. were also received, and clerks having met the train at Sacramento the mails were delivered in ten minutes after arrival in this city. The passengers all concur in saying there has been no excuse for the detention, except the faulty construction of the Union Pacific road. No floods were encountered of any consequence whatever, owing to the fact that the road is built over the plains in the lowest places, and unprovided with culverts to allow the passage of water from the hills, the road bed was turned to mere mud and melted away. The bridges carried away were built on trestles and piles and went down from loosening of the earth about the piles. Some officers of the company stated to passengers that the track at Bitter Creek will be abandoned and a new road built on higher ground. Some difference of opinion prevailed amongst passengers as to the nature of supplies furnished them during the detention, some declaring that the company were in no hurry to forward them because of making so much by supplying them with poor rations at first class prices, while others think they were supplied as well as the circumstances would permit. Between five and six thousand immigrants are between here and Omaha. The weather during the detention was very pleasant. But little real discomfort was experienced.

A Dutch War Vessel in San Francisco Bay.

The Holland corvette Curacao arrived here to-day from Calhao. She is the first Dutch war ship that ever entered this harbor. It is a wooden screw steamer, full ship rigged.

Survey of Mount Shasta.

REDDING, April 24.—A coast survey party are in town making arrangements to climb Mount Shasta for the purpose of making examination as to the erection of a monument on the summit. They have established barometric stations here, and will make simultaneous observations here and on the summit to determine its height.

Fire at Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, April 24.—The old iron foundry and sand house of the Central Pacific Railroad shops in this city, were totally destroyed by fire this evening; loss about $10,000. It is supposed the fire originated near the engine room, in a pile of flasks used for moulding.

Grave Charges against Officers of the Venture.

SAN DIEGO, April 23.—The passengers of the wrecked steamer Ventura, who arrived by the steamer Ancon to-day, report the loss of the Ventura was owing to gross carelessness of the officers. The crew were entirely uncontrolled by the officers after the striking. It was over an hour before a boat was launched.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25.—The steamer Gipsy arrived this morning, twelve hours from Point Sur, with boats, officers and crew of the wrecked steamer Ventura. From her memoranda we obtain the following: "Saturday, 24th, at 2 P. M., the Ventura broke up. The masts gone; the starboard side all gone; cargo and wreck floating ashore and going to sea; all in a much damaged condition. Seas breaking entirely over and around the wreck compelled us to take off the crew one mile below the wreck, the officers and crew losing all their clothing and effects. No passengers' baggage or Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express matter could be got off.

Brigham Still in Tribulation.

SALT LAKE, April 24.—Brigham Young was summoned to appear to-day before Chief-Justice Lowe to show cause why he should not be held for contempt for failing to pay Ann Eliza $8,500, or the monthly allowance of $500 alimony pendente lite. The case was argued for an appeal to the Supreme Court. At the conclusion the Judge called for the papers in the case, but no decision was given.

Train to Green River—Interruption of the Mails.

SALT LAKE, April 24.—A train went east from Ogden to-day to Green river, where a transfer will be made, and the train will come back to-night. The weather has been cold to-day, and a little snow in the mountains. Nothing as to the time the break in the road along Bitter Creek will be repaired. The last New York mail received here is April 10th.

SAN DIEGO, April 25.—Advices from Prescott, Arizona, report the discovery of quicksilver in abundance in the valley of the Chloride.

There is a fair prospect for pronunciamento, anarchy and bloodshed in Sonora before the election closes.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

Severe Fire at Oakland.

OAKLAND, Oregon, April 25.—At about 9:30 o'clock last night the alarm of fire was sounded, and proved to be in the building of James A. Sterling. The flames soon spread to the adjoining buildings, and in a short space of time they were all in ashes. The following are the losses, as near as can be ascertained: J. A. Sterling, postoffice and book-store, $2,500. The books and mails of the postoffice were saved. Building insured for $1,000. W. Hotchkiss, saloon and fixtures, $1,500; B. Herman, law office, $300. The dry-goods establishment of Abraham & Bro. caught fire several times, but by the great exertions of the citizens was saved, with damage of about $5,000 to building and stock. The dwelling-house of H. Abrahams was also damaged some $200.

Later.

OAKLAND, Oregon, April 25.—Following are the particulars of the fire at Oakland: James A. Sterling, postmaster and Wells, Fargo & Co.'s agent, saved the mail and express matters, and a part of his goods. His building and the greater part of his stock was lost, to the amount of $3,000; no insurance. Abraham & Bros.' large establishment, the most exposed to the intense heat, was saved only by the unremitting exertions of the citizens, of all classes, ages and conditions, the Celestials, as well as the whites, working with might and main. Water was kept constantly over the exposed parts, and axes were freely used on the roof to keep down the fire, breaking out upon it in different places, and which threatened every moment to get beyond control. The goods were dragged beyond the reach of the fire by ready hands in an indescribably short time. To save this building was to save the town. Their valuable stock, through the necessity of rough handling and carelessness, was damaged at least $6,000; fully insured. H. Abrahams dwelling was greatly damaged, at least $800; fully insured. Hotchkiss & Co., Peland's saloon, building, liquors and fixtures is a total loss—$8,000; no insurance. B. Herman's law office was burned; loss, $300; no insurance.

A Horrible Death.

EUGENE CITY, April 24.—Henry Hagleman, proprietor of the Eugene City Brewery, while engaged last night at work about one of his vats full of hot beer, walked on a plank which tilted and threw him in. He died this morning at 4 o'clock, after intense suffering from the effects of the immersion.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

A Steamboat Engineer Killed by His Machinery.

SEATTLE, April 23.—The following is just received from Port Madison: Charles Vickers, the second engineer of the steamer Politkofsky, was accidentally killed this morning. It appears from the evidence that he had been oiling the engine, and was looking down the crank pit at the top of the engine, when the crank came down and caught him, striking him on the back of the head and on the breast, killing him almost instantly. An inquest was held on the body this afternoon and a verdict in accordance with the above facts rendered.

Frazer Died from His Wounds.

SEATTLE, April 24.—Abe Frazer, shot by Delaney lately at Lake Washington coal mine, died Friday, at 2 P. M., from the effects of the wound.

DEATH OF THE PRINCESS TORLONIA.

The London Echo's correspondent in Rome writes under date of March 20: "The city has been much moved in every sense the last few days by the death of Princess Torlonia, once the most beautiful woman in Rome, and the sad sufferer, for nearly twenty years, from incurable mental malady. She was Donna Teresa Colonna, daughter of Duke Aspreno Colonna, born Feb. 22, 1823, and married to Prince Torlonia in 1840. The memoirs and journals of travel relating to Rome of those days are full of the marvelous beauty of Torlonia's bride, who, crowned and girded with diamonds by her adoring husband, did the honors of those magnificent fetes which are still remembered as unequaled since by king or noble here. In those days she bore her honors calmly and meekly, although the descendant of a thousand Colonnas. There is an anecdote of some jealous lady telling her that the first Colonnas were only poor plebeians in Rome 800 years ago. 'I suppose we began that way,' was the simple rejoinder. She died last Tuesday of pneumonia, after a few days' illness. Prince Torlonia shows his grief royally, as he does everything. The remains of the Princess lay in state on Thursday and Friday in one of the state-rooms of the Palazzo Torlonia. She was dressed in white, and lay with her hands crossed on her breast, holding a small golden crucifix, and she seemed to sleep calmly after all her years of tribulation. Three salons were arranged as chapels, with altars, where masses for the repose of her soul were offered continually from dawn to noon. The public were admitted in detachments, and the palace doors were besieged with the crowds who pressed to have a last look at the poor lady, who had been the benefactress of many who pitied as well as thanked her." A later letter, dated March 22, says: "For two days the public have been admitted to the Palazzo Torlonia, to see the body of the Princess Alexandra, laid out in state, not upon a raised platform, but in a coffin on the ground. This day the funeral took place with great pomp. First in the cortege came, with their banners, various bodies of penitents, black, white, blue, gray, and others all wearing the large hood, with two holes for the eyes, and chanting the Te te, Domine, speravi, the De profundis, &c. Following them came one hundred Capuchins, the same number of Black Franciscans, and a great number of ecclesiastics in surplices; then a great cross, the crucifix being veiled on account of the time of the Passion; and after that, under a canopy of gold brocade, carried by artists and artisans, the corpse of the Princess nee Colonna, deceased at the age of fifty-two years. The body was followed by 200 little girls belonging to an orphanage founded by that lady, and to them succeeded the innumerable personal dependents of the princely establishment, the procession being closed by about 150 carriages with servants in livery. Such are grand funeral obsequies according to the old customs of Rome."

A committee consisting of two from each of Walla Walla and Blue Mountain Lodges, and two from Walla Walla Chapter, met last week to confer as to the propriety of holding a celebration in that city on St. John's Day, June 24th. It was agreed upon that the day be celebrated by the Order in a grand procession and oration, and perhaps by a ball in the evening. Governor E. P. Ferry is to be invited to deliver the oration.

OREGON.

Asafœtida was too strong for the best speller in Eugene.

The new school house to be built at Amity will be a fine structure when finished.

Young Laughlin, who shot his father not long since, on North Yamhill, is dead.

Two trains for freight for Jacksonville arrived at and departed from Roseburg last week.

J. H. Powell is giving Bibles away to all those who are unable to buy them in Polk county.

C. W. Hammond will issue his new paper in Independence on or near the 15th of next month.

The amount of taxable property in Dalles City, as estimated by Mr. Breyman, is about $500,000.

The Roseburg and Coos Bay Wagon Road Co. have again negotiated their lands and road to an Eastern company.

A vast amount of freight is now stored in the warehouses at Roseburg, and almost every train from below adds to the amount.

The Good Templars of Roseburg have a lodge paper, which is read at every meeting, which consists of contributions from the members.

Croquet and base ball have been to some extent superseded in Corvallis by the graceful and healthful pastime of "pitching horse-shoes."

Rev. B. R. Baxter has resigned the pastorate of the M. E. church South, in Corvallis, and Rev. Jos. Emery has temporarily accepted the position.

A picnic will be given at Hood river on Saturday, May 1st, by the good people of that delightful place, who extend a general invitation to the citizens of the Dalles.

Just now there seems to be a very warm difference of opinion between the common council of Corvallis and Bro. Carter of the Gazette, in reference to the city printing.

On Tuesday of last week at the Eugene saw mill, Mr. McFarland, while at work about the planer, had the little finger of his left hand completely cut off at the knuckle.

Dallas is improving all over, under, in the middle, on top. Every house in town is full, except the hotel, and it is nearly ready for some good man. No use, Dallas is the town of Polk—800 inhabitants.

A. Johnson, the wagon-maker of Corvallis, received some serious injuries on Wednesday of last week, by a scaffold giving way. His right wrist was badly sprained and his side and neck considerably bruised.

The man Wyant, who was shot in attempting to escape from the jail at Lafayette, some time ago, has had the ball extracted since his arrival at the penitentiary, and is now getting well, and will be able to "do the State some service."

Mr. G. B. Halvor, who resides near Scotts post office, Wasco county, informs us that the John Day river was booming and up to within a few inches of the highest point ever reached before. Mr. Leonard's bridge stands the flood well.

Mr. Anderson, near Phœnix, in Jackson county, discovered an individual attempting to get away with one of his horses, and in order to stop him was compelled to shoot him. All the particulars are not known, but the man was not dead at last accounts.

The people of Eugene and vicinity are much stirred up on the subject of obtaining a portion of the money appropriated for the improvement of the Willamet river, above Albany, and are circulating a petition to Gen. Michler, calling his attention to that matter.

From Mr. Robert Wade, of Gardner, the Plaindealer learns that the work on the new vessel is progressing finely. There will be 15 or 16 logging teams at work on the river during the summer. Logging camps will soon be in full operation opposite Scottsburg.

Messrs. Jenkins, Sellers, Utter and another gentleman, have located a section of coal land, about twelve miles above tide water on the Coquille. It is said to be the best coal bed in that county, the vein being over six feet thick, of pure coal, and covering the entire section.

The friends of temperance in Corvallis have been, apparently, taking a Rip Van Winkle sleep for the past year—and no temperance organization is now in existence at that place, the Lodge of Good Templars and Encampment of I. O. O. F. having suspended meeting for months past.

WHAT HAS RESTORED PROSPERITY TO CALIFORNIA?

We have been publishing lately a series of articles on the advantages to be gained by home manufacture, home consumption, home markets, etc. The importance of the subject cannot be overestimated. We urge people, with every argument at our command, to immigrate into our goodly land. But the people who come are not all farmers; nor is it desirable they should be. We need mechanics, tradesmen, other classes of industrious people, to work up our raw materials, and thus save to our community the cost of producing our manufactured goods, and at the same time be consumers of our products and supporters of our home markets. But how can such people live here. They must have employment when they come or they will not stay with us. They will go away, and their report of the country will prevent others from coming. We cannot reasonably expect very large immigrations till we can furnish employment for those, who land among us poor and ready to work. We must be in a condition to absorb the population that pours in upon us, or we may as well cease to hope for great accession to our numbers and great increase of our commercial importance.

California has saved herself by recognizing this fact. Three or four years ago that State was flat, and its prospects anything but flattering. But its wealthy men saw the critical moment had arrived. Something must be done, or the State would fall back instead of going forward. They took hold of the question with a will and a zeal that showed they were equal to the emergency. With the benefit of the experience of the old manufacturing communities they have filled their beautiful young State with manufactures, with industry, with people, with prosperity, and the investment has proved better to themselves than interest at 12 per cent. per annum. Their property has increased enough in value to reimburse them the money they have thus expended, and the vast increase of population and business activity has opened a field for the constant and profitable employment of all their surplus means. There is no sovereign specific for the prevention of dull times which will be found sufficient for every possible contingency and combination of circumstances; but that which approaches nearest such a desideratum is home production, home consumption—home manufactures for everything that can be made at home for home consumption or export, and home market to the full consuming power of all the population the country is capable of sustaining.

STILL RAIDING.

Further raids of Mexicans on the Texas border are reported. It appears that marauders feel perfectly secure in going on their plundering expeditions, as neither the Mexican government nor our own seems to consider it worth while to interpose, or even to enter with any degree of earnestness upon an inquiry as to the actual facts in the premises.

The Mexicans claim, and doubtless not without some foundations in the facts, that raids are frequently made upon their frontiers by American robbers; that this plundering business is mutual. The truth is, that on both sides of the Rio Grande, which forms the boundary line between the two countries, the population is largely Mexican. The American border settlers are to a very considerable proportion Mexican Greasers, who were made citizens of the United States by the treaty of Guadeloupe Hidalgo, but were not by that or any other treaty made orderly, industrious or honest. No doubt these, with possibly a sufficient admixture of our own race to impart a spirit of enterprise, are in the habit of foraging on the Mexican side of the river, when times are tight at home. But this furnishes no sufficient reason why government should be indifferent as to the rights of its people. On the other hand, it is an additional argument for some immediate and efficient action to put a stop to the lawlessness on both sides. Surely this evil is not beyond the reach of the statesmanship that has the destiny of our country in charge at present. A way can be devised to restrain our own Mexicans and to make Mexico restrain hers, and it ought to be done without delay.

REPUBLICANISM IN SAN FRANCISCO.

The "Young Republicans" of San Francisco are having some interesting, if not very encouraging experience with the Custom House clique of that city. The lessons of the past have not sunk deep enough in the hearts of the ring to make them realize the necessity of standing aside if they would have the party enjoy the respect of the people, and so they muster their army of mercenaries and go into the meetings of the Republicans and capture them. It is not difficult to perceive the motives that prompted the members of the ring to oppose and finally defeat the resolutions demanding honesty and economy in the administration of public affairs, the non-interference of moneyed corporations in politics, &c. These demands struck right at the foundation of ring power, and their adoption would have been no less than an impeachment of the managers of the party; that is, of the Federal officers. It was but natural, therefore, the ring should strenuously oppose the resolution; and yet just such conduct as this has had no little influence in bringing the party to its present state of discord and decline. The party owes its troubles mainly, almost wholly, to the unrepublican practices of selfish and unscrupulous politicians, who came into it only after it had become the dominant party of the country, for the purpose of getting office, and who, having succeeded in foisting themselves upon the organization and into official stations, have ever since used any and all means, however disreputable, to hold on to their places.

If the U. P. Railway would just keep the legitimate bounds of its business as common carrier, without stopping to engage in "washouts" and similar amusements, we should say, go on orchards, and be happy.

THE HAREM AGAINST THE FREE SCHOOLS.

The Mormons are true to their mission. They were spoken into being by the devil, and they have always done the honorable thing toward him. True, they have so far yielded to the pressure of civilization and vis major as to give up the murdering of emigrant trains who happen to be journeying through their country, and women who think more of their purity than of the favor of the lustful dignitaries of the church, but they still serve their master to the best of their ability. Just now they are engaged in a deadly attack on the common school system, and the style of eloquence with which the reports of their meetings are filled is worthy of the cause in which it is employed. Brigham declares the common schools are nurseries for bawdy houses, and that the whole community outside of the little patch of ground occupied by his saints has been so corrupted by the common schools that the people would be "unfit for food for his hogs." Think of Brigham Young's Reclaiming against the common school system because of its tendency to corrupt the youth of the land in the matter of personal purity! The lord of the harem, and the reputed author of the Mountain Meadow massacre, appeals to the public in behalf of purity and morality!

THE ELECTION IN RHODE ISLAND.

In the Rhode Island election yesterday there were three tickets for governor in the field: Henry Lippitt, regular Republican, who had the support of the Liquor League; Rowland Hazard, Independent Republican, who was supported by the Prohibitionists, and Charles R. Cutler, Democrat. As the regular Republican candidates on the State ticket and on the Assembly ticket were regarded as pledged to the repeal of the present prohibitory and State constabulary laws, the Democrats gave a large support to the Lippitt ticket. The liquor question was made the chief issue. No choice of governor was made by the people, so the legislature must elect one from the two having the largest vote, which, according to the returns received by telegraph up to going to press, will be Lippitt or Hazard. The regular Democratic candidate appears to have received a very small vote.

From the above, which we find in the Washington Chronicle, the inferences are, 1st, that the ring Republicans and Bourbons will unite with each other in the East, as they did last year in Oregon, whenever it appears probable such a course is necessary to defeat the Independents; and, 2d, that in Rhode Island party ties are so far broken that the people who do not go with their party are about equal to those who do, including those of both the old parties.

AN ERRONEOUS REPORT CORRECTED.

Mr. D. F. Leahy, telegraphic operator, hands us for publication the following, received by him yesterday:

UMATILLA, April 25th.

Dan'l Leahy, Esq.:—I notice in Portland dailies an article copied from Eastern Oregon papers stating that travel by stage over the Blue mountains is extremely dangerous. This statement I wish to contradict, having it from passengers daily traveling over the road, as well as from Mr. A. H. Brower, Superintendent of the Stage Company, that the road over the Blue mountains is now in better condition than it has ever been seen before at this season of the year. Yours, &c., A. H. STONE.

The fire at Oakland last Saturday, of which our dispatches give full particulars, was a very serious calamity to that community. The losses would be considered as unimportant, if divided up among the inhabitants of a city, but to a small community they are quite heavy, and the sufferers are entitled to the sympathies of those who were so fortunate as to escape.

The official returns of the Connecticut election show the following vote for Governor:

Ingersoll, Dem.	52,785
Greene, Rep.	44,303
Smith, Temp.	2,786
Scattering	12
	100,886
Ingersoll's plurality	9,482
Ingersoll's majority	5,684

Spring, spring, beautiful spring!
The wild-winged warblers are wanging a wung,
And the soft south breezes a brazing a broze
That thaws up the ice with remarkable thoze.

O betterest time of all moments of tome,
I'll rhyme thee athumder in tenderest rhome,
And tell thee how oft in my longing I've lung
To welcome thy coming, O beautiful sprung!

Symbolical season! exquisitest zeze!
All nature uprising in gleefulest gloze
Wide opens its larynx to sing and to shout
Exuberant pleasure and gratefulest grout.

The little blithe rivulets run to the seas—
The little buds start on the hemlocks and trees;
The geese are screaming their vigorest screamm,
And the frogs that were dreaming no longer will dramm.

HOMES FOR SALE

STRANGER, IF YOU MEAN "BIZ," HAVE A little money and are on the work, we're the identical chaps you have traveled the "plains acroos" to see. When you say "Home" you strike our strong weakness. Right here, within the sound of the church bells, we have good land for from $25 to $100 per acre. Remember this is within 3 or 4 miles of the Metropolis of Oregon, where people wear store clothes, observe the Sabbath, ride on steamboats and railroads, have spelling schools, with a soil and climate not excelled for vegetables, fruits, cereals, hops, and "inguns," with a cash market, and no fear of drought, curculio, grasshoppers or crickets; no "spanish grams" to rob you, where we have telegraphic communication with Europe, Asia, Africa and Plymouth Church; where ministers don't have to take summer vacations, for we've got a Brooklyn of our own; and where a Real Estate Agent is given a "wide berth." Yes, if this suits you, and you want to raise fruits, and vegetables, and chickens, and make butter, and WORK, we can fill the bill. True, they are in the rough; but WILL, and MUSCLE, and BRAINS will make Homes of them in the fullest sense. So come right along.

Mr. Smith visited California last year for his health, which, for some time, has been precarious; but we regret to state that the trip has not made any material change in his condition. His estimable wife accompanies him home.

The Vancouver Register in speaking of R. C. Stratton, so well known in Oregon, and who was pastor at one time of the Taylor street M. E. Church, says: "It is said that this estimable gentleman and family are expected to return to this country in June next. He has spent several years in Salt Lake City in charge of one of the large churches of that place. We understand that he intends to visit his old friends of the coast and probably remain at some point where it may suit him."

Says an exchange: "Now that spelling matches take the town, don't allow any of the lucifers in the same box with the parlor variety. They are very offensive to the senses."

The spelling match at the Odd Fellows' Hall, East Portland, under the auspices of the M. E. church, will be given on Wednesday evening of the present week, instead of Monday evening, as announced.

It is announced that to-morrow evening the active circle of the Unitarian church will have an entertainment at the chapel, during which a spelling match will take place. MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 26, 1875.

CITY.

A THIEF CAUGHT.—Joe Weiser, alias "Lager Beer Joe," a noted "vag." and thief, was arrested early yesterday morning, charged with having burglarized Otto's Exchange Saloon, at the railroad ferry landing, on Friday evening. On that evening the barkeeper closed up the saloon at an early hour—7 o'clock—and went home. Before going, he forgot to take the money out of the drawer, and this omission did not occur to him until the following morning. On opening the drawer Saturday morning the barkeeper discovered, to his surprise, that some one had entered the saloon during the night and purloined the money. Complaint was lodged at once at police headquarters, and the burglary began to be tracked up. "Lager Beer Joe," having been seen prowling about the premises on Friday night, suspicion at once rested on him to an extent which justified the police officer in arresting him. On being brought to the jail and searched, a purse was discovered on his person, which was immediately identified by the barkeeper as the one that had been left in the drawer with the money. About $15 was also found in his pocket. The barkeeper states that there was in the drawer from $22 to $25—a $10 piece, $5 piece and the rest in small change. An entrance was gained to the saloon by the thief by means of a small ladder through a window at the rear of the building. If Weiser is the guilty party—and the evidence appears tindeniable—Mr. Watkinds can confidently anticipate an accession to the raccoon brigade ere long.

MASONIC REUNION.—The Salem Record learns through Mt. S. F. Chadwick that the Masonic fraternity of Oregon, Washington and Idaho intend to have a reunion somewhere this summer, where the scene of enjoyment can be farthered with a good, old-fashioned clam-bake. The 9th of August is the time fixed when the party will leave Portland for some point on the Sound, where Masons and their friends will congregate for a season of sea air and sea enjoyments generally. After the clam harvest shall have been fully partaken of, there will be a trip down the Sound to Victoria on some of those grand Sound steamers that ply the length of that labyrinth of waters, a pleasure excursion that will give a view of the magnificent scenery of that wonderfully picturesque region. No one can hardly conceive of a more charming excursion to be planned than the one referred to above. In the first place, the Masonic order furnishes the general talent to appreciate such a tour of pleasure, and make it thoroughly enjoyable, for of course the ladies are included; next, the localities to be visited will offer every charm of nature, and enough of the concomitants of civilization to render the enjoyment perfect; thirdly, the fare will, no doubt, be reduced to a price within command of all who may desire to be participants, thus favoring pleasure with economy, as well as rendering it savory with clam-bake.

CHURCH IMPROVEMENT.—Mr. E. Suker, engineer of Columbian Engine Co. No. 3, has attached a blower to the engine, and it is a great improvement. It saves fuel and works well in every respect. Instead of keeping up a steam-pressure of 20 to 30 pounds while the engine is in the house, he keeps the water merely warm. The moment an alarm is sounded he applies the blower, and by the time the engine is at the scene of fire, she is ready, with from 60 to 80 pounds of steam, to do good service. Thus, fuel is saved, steam is economized, and the boiler is spared from corrosion.

PASSENGERS.—The Ajax, which sailed for Portland from San Francisco on Saturday, brings the following passengers: Hon. J. S. Smith and wife, H. H. Withington, G. L. De Pass, M. Fleischner, G. F. Tucker, J. M. Faltner, J. Ford, Mrs. R. S. Velder and son, Mrs. E. H. Short and Child, J. W. Edwards, Kate L. Griffith, Mrs. J. Morgan and two children, C. E. Bingham and wife, W. K. Smith, W. H. Henderson, A. A. Cohen, M. Church, A. Frankenthal, T. N. Ford, Miss A. Ford, E. L. Williams, P. Brooks, H. B. Griffith, Mrs. Showers, J. Bales and wife, C. Brehn and two children.

CHINESE CONCERT.—This (Monday) evening a Chinese concert will take place at the Baptist church. The exercises will consist of songs by the pupils of the Sabbath school, interspersed with songs and recitations by those connected with the Chinese mission school. The proceeds of the concert will be applied for the purchase of the organ now used by the Chinese school. An opportunity will be afforded the public of witnessing a novel and interesting spectacle—the proficiency attained by the Chinese pupils in acquiring our language and songs. Admission, 25 cents.

CHANGE OF STEAMERS.—The steamer Bonita which made her trial trip on Thursday, and exhibited herself so handsomely, was brought up from the boneyard yesterday, and will start down the river this morning. This new craft will take the line between Portland and Astoria, in place of the Dixie Thompson. On arriving here from Astoria this evening, the Dixie will be taken to the boneyard and be thoroughly overhauled. As heretofore, the Emma Hayward will continue to make regular trips in connection with the Bonita.

ANTHRACITE COAL.—We understand that a gentleman who formerly resided in Portland has recently been the fortunate discoverer of a bed of excellent anthracite coal near the Puyallup, about ten miles from the line of the N. P. R. R. The vein is about seven feet thick and appears to be of unlimited extent. A specimen has been forwarded to Mr. J. H. Lee, who pronounces it a superior article of coal.

DECISION IN THE U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—This morning, on the opening of the court, Judge Deady will deliver the opinion in the case of Neff vs. Pennoyer—appeal from the clerk on the taxation of costs.

IN PORT.—The following sailing vessels are now in port: The Elizabeth, Dougall, Clifton, Gazelle, Ella and Katie Heron.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Henry Rosenfeld, of Rosenfeld & Co., of this city, has gone to New York in the interest of that firm. He will be absent some time.

Mr. Smith visited California last year for his health, which, for some time, has been precarious; but we regret to state that the trip has not made any material change in his condition. His estimable wife accompanies him home.

The Vancouver Register in speaking of Rev. C. Bratton, so well known in Oregon, and who was pastor at one time of the Taylor street M. E. church, says: "It is said that this estimable gentleman and family are expected to visit this country in June next. He has spent three years in Salt Lake City in charge of one of the large churches of that place. We understand he has friends to visit his old friends on this coast, and probably remain at some point where it may suit him."

ORTHOGRAPHICAL.

Dictionaries are in active demand since the advent of spellmaney in our midst.

Says an exchange: "Now that spelling matches take the town, don't allow any of the leathers in the same box with the parlor qualities—they are very offensive to the sense."

The spelling match at the Odd Fellows' Hall, East Portland, under the auspices of the M. E. church, will be given on Wednesday evening of the present week, instead of this evening, as announced.

Then she blushed and simpered gently that wooed be better; and that is what filled Hannah! She isn't Hannah More, now, since that match at spelling, nor she isn't Hannah less. Tom won his prize at that match, and enjoys the spell it gave him; wonderfully."

BRIEF NOTES.

Picnics in order now.

A private picnic was held at East Portland Park on Saturday.

Everybody was indulging in the luxury of a sun light bath yesterday.

There was no police court on Saturday morning, Judge Denny having gone south.

Dusty streets can soon be expected, when the street sprinkler will be a welcome sight.

The contract has been let for the erection of another brick building, 25x75 feet, on Second street.

There will be unusual high water this season, if present appearances can be taken as an indication.

A horse attached to a dray took a dash down First street on Saturday. The mêlée got worse hurt than the dray.

The little steamer Maria Wilkins is now making regular trips between Cottonwood Point and this city.

A verdict of not guilty was rendered in the case of State vs. Herman Steinberger, tried before Justice Reilly.

"Nifty" growing weather these days. Sunshine by day, fine showers of nights. Vegetation fairly leaps upwards.

The bark Rival reached Astoria on Friday in tow of the Shoo Fly. She went to sea on Saturday morning, bound for San Francisco.

To-day and to-morrow will be the last days of the Passover and then once more our Jewish citizens will be permitted to eat leavened bread.

The first strawberries of the season were enjoyed in town last Thursday. It may as well be told, however, that they were brought from San Francisco by the Orifiamme.

Now is the auspicious time when the frisky schoolboy will cheat the "early bird" out of its worm and hie away to some babbling stream and angle for the graveling sucker.

Thomas Stevens, who has general charge of the new building being erected by Messrs. J. McCraken & Co., has let the contract for the brick work on the building to Messrs. Cason, Brady & Sloan, three experienced brick masons.

Columbia Engine Co. No. 3, was presented on Saturday evening with a silver card receiver, the members of that organization having sold the largest number of tickets for Cal Mandevill's benefit. One hundred and sixty-six tickets were sold by that company. W. A. Hart, assistant engineer P. F. D., having disposed of 60 tickets for the benefit, was presented with a silver goblet.

FIFTY-SIXTH ANNIVERSARY.

A grand celebration will be held this evening at Masonic Temple, by the Odd Fellows of Portland, East Portland and vicinity, on the event of the recurrence of the 56th anniversary of the introduction of the order in the United States. The exercises will be of a character prescribed by the Grand Lodge of the United States, and give promise of being very interesting. Members of the several lodges will meet at Odd Fellows' Hall, this evening, promptly at 7 o'clock, and form procession and proceed to Masonic Hall, where the exercises will commence at 8 o'clock, sharp. The order of exercises will be as follows:

Instrumental Music.
Prayer by the Chaplain
Explanatory: Dialogue, giving the objects and aims of Odd Fellowship.
Thanksgiving Hymn.
Prayer by the Chaplain.
Oration by Hon. Syl. C. Simpson.
Ode, Our Flag.

Celebrations of a similar character will be held in many of the towns throughout the State. We hear that the important event will be appropriately observed at Olympia, Astoria, Walla Walla, Oregon City, and other places we do not now call to mind. The three lodges in Washington county and two in Yamhill will join in celebrating the day at Hillsboro, and they have secured the services of Hon. J. N. Dolph, as orator. Saturday morning Grand Master H. G. Struve, accompanied by Hon. O. N. Denny, left on the train for Canyonville, where the lodges from Roseburg, Oakland and Canyonville will join in celebrating the day by appropriate ceremonies.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The new and elegant establishment of A. E. Miller & Co., 45 First street, is being well patronized. Their card appears elsewhere. For favors in the shape of ice cream, etc., sent to this office our thanks are due them.

DeLashmutt & Oatman issue a new and original announcement to-day, besides a special notice to farmers regarding farms which are offered very cheap. This firm are prepared at all times to give immigrants information of value. Call on them, if you want to buy, lend or borrow.

SOMETHING NEW.

The new style of promenade photographs. These beautiful pictures are now made at Bosed & Megler's new rooms, Nos. 127 and 129, First street. Call and examine them.

During the warm weather there is nothing better nor more cooling than a drink of soda water from Gibson & Co.'s "Arctic."

Spelling matches are all the rage now and there is no telling what may follow to occupy the attention of society. What attracts most attention in the vicinity of Front and Washington streets is the establishment of BECK & WALDMAN. The immensed stock of spring and summer Clothing, and the marked changes in the matter of charges at this house is sufficient to draw large crowds to their store. Youths' clothing continues a specialty, and fond parents make a great mistake if they fail to examine the stock at Beck & Waldman's.

KOHN opposite the National Bank, is still busy disposing of those new and exceedingly attractive styles of summer suits. His recent visit to San Francisco gave him an opportunity to make the necessary arrangements for the shipment to his house of the latest and most fashionable suits as they should appear. Everybody who has had any acquaintance with Kohn needs no urging. You need a suit, or some furnishing goods now, and Kohn offers you a splendid chance to buy.

M. ROSENBLATT, Clothier, has just returned from San Francisco with a large Stock of Spring Goods—particularly Boys' and Youths' Clothing, at lower rates than ever. Call and see before purchasing. The store is No. 79 Front street.

ANNIVERSARY MEETING OF THE YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH LAST EVENING—REPORTS OF THE PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY—ADDRESSES, COLLECTION, ETC.

Last evening the anniversary exercises of the Young Men's Christian Association of Portland, was held in the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church. The large room was found insufficient to accommodate the throngs which began to pour in at 7, and continued until after the exercises commenced—a few minutes before 8 o'clock. Chairs were placed along the aisles, but even then all could not find seats.

A short time before 8 the exercises began by singing the 950th hymn in the Hymnal. Reading a Scriptural lesson—the 15th chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke—was next conducted by Rev. Mr. Eaton, of the Congregational church. Rev. Dr. Lindsley then offered prayer. The 951st hymn was sung by the congregation, after which Mr. E. J. Northrup read the annual report of the

SECRETARY:

Mr. President, Members of the Association, Ladies and Gentlemen: It becomes my duty to present to you the statistics involved in the working of the Young Men's Christian Association, from July 27th, 1873, to the present time.

Last summer, as is well known, the reorganization of the Association was started, with the express understanding that if it could not be placed upon a good working basis, so that it could point to the ripe fruit instead of the everlasting something it was going to do, the Association should be disbanded.

It is hoped the meeting to-night will convince you that ripe fruit has been gathered into the garner of the Lord, as the result of the reorganization.

During the summer months the work went steadily on, and by Dec. 14th, a new constitution and by-laws were adopted. The object of this was to get rid of as much red tape as possible, yet retain form enough to keep the affairs in such a condition that they might be understood at all times.

Upon making a careful search, we found 57 names upon the books, and this may be known as the old membership; but it has been impossible to determine how many are active, how many associate, or how many are willing to continue with us. Of this number we believe 17 are willing to work, leaving 40 standing we do not know where.

Of the new members, we are able to give a far more favorable report. There have been received, since December 14th, 1874, eighty new members. Of this number thirty-nine are active, there being eleven ladies and twenty-eight gentlemen.

Of associate members we have forty-one, no ladies having applied for this class of membership.

This gives us the following membership:

Active female members	11
" male "	49
Associate female "	00
" male "	77
Total	137

As soon as possible the Association will endeavor to establish the standing of all its members, and have them properly classified.

The membership of the Association is divided into four classes, viz.: active, associate, life and honorary. The two latter may be either active or associate. The dues of active and associate are fixed at 25 cents per month—only $3 a year; and life members join at $25.

The object in placing the dues so low is to induce as many as possible to join us, and it is hoped that many here will become members in one of the three classes last mentioned. All classes of membership are opened to either sex, and it is particularly desired that ladies should become interested in the work and join our ranks. Respectfully submitted.

CURTIS C. STRONG,
Sec'y Y. M. C. A.

Portland, April 23, 1875.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

Capt. Wilkinson read the following report:

BRETHREN: This is the first anniversary of our Association in two years. We are met to give some little account of our stewardship to the church in Portland and to those of our fellow citizens who are looking to us to verify our promises of sympathy and aid, both temporal and spiritual, to those in need. It is fitting and proper that we do so.

The Master, whom alone we seek to honor in thus coming together, has said:

I was an hungered, and ye gave me meat; I was thirsty and ye gave me drink; I was a stranger, and ye took me in;

Naked, and ye clothed me; I was sick, and ye visited me; I was in prison, and ye came unto me.

Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungered, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink?

When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?

Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee.

And the King shall answer, and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.

Then shall he also say unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels:

For I was an hungered, and ye gave me no meat; I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink;

I was a stranger, and ye took me not in; naked, and ye clothed me not; sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungered, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee?

Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

And these shall go into everlasting punishment; but the righteous into life eternal.

Is not this the message to us, and are we not here renewedly to dedicate ourselves to such a service, counting the cost?

We need not render a history of the Young Men's Christian Association. Its purposes are now well understood to be the saving of young men especially. Neither can we intelligently enter into a detailed statement of what has been accomplished during the past two years by this Association. Of this, however, we are assured that its members have often asked upon it the blessing of God and by reason of that blessing we are met here to-night. It seems, however, that during the past winter a new departure has been made. It was thought best in December last to employ a general secretary, and the Rev. W. C. Chattin was chosen, and it is greatly owing to his zeal and efficiency that good results have been obtained. And now we briefly review some of the

RESULTS OF OUR LABORS.

We desire most emphatically to place ourself upon record as saying that we have not been furnished with a transcript from the "Book of Life," showing those who have been enrolled thereon through the efforts of our association during the past winter. The command to sow beside all waters carries with it also the injunction we heed too little: We are not to know which shall prosper, this or that. Many have attended our noonday meetings; and all told, a great multitude has listened to our songs of praise, our prayers and our words of invitation upon the "highways." Do we God's will when we do not leave the prospering to His way and time?

We call to mind how frequently messages from the East, North and South of our broad land would come to our Association in Washington, from those who had been attracted by our service of song and testimony, upon the street; how that, pricked in the heart, they had gone to their homes to confess Christ and the means by which they had found Him. Some may not have witnessed a good confession in our midst, yet the admonition comes alike to all, whether their days be few or many in God's service. "Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."

But we do well to remember that not a few of those whom Satan could claim as his own, who have come up out of great tribulation, who have been washed in the blood of the Lamb, are sitting with us to-night in heavenly places in Christ Jesus, witnessing for Him with happy hearts and shining faces; ready, too, to confess Him with the tongue, or, better still, to honor Him with the more pleasing and costly sacrifice—that of the life!

In Washington we came to know and to admire the devotion of the Little Sisters of the Poor, a Catholic society, taking none into its care but those who were entirely destitute and over 60 years of age. How many times the Little Mother of this society, as she was called, met us at the door of the house, with some message of love from her helpless wards, for whom these Sisters ask alms from door to door, soliciting the crumbs from the tables of the rich. We took note of this remarkable charity—thanked God for it, and came West, followed, we are entitled by the prayers of those goodly Sisters. They do not wait for all of their reward in Heaven. Again, a few days since, one in whom we have become greatly interested was called from this city for a few days. While absent he addressed a note to his "Little Mother." We also have taken note of this Little Mother's home in Portland, and this other remarkable charity. Around the table and breaking daily bread with our general secretary are some of those to whom we have referred. We also do well to mention how that for these winter months there has been the constant care, the daily admonition and prayer, with the tender loving counsel of our Little Mother of the poor, the wife of our general secretary, and she is not waiting for all of her reward in heaven.

One of those, who has cost the taxpayers of Portland not a little, goes from the jail to his home, impoverished by his intemperance and crime, to erect the family altar. Yes, in that home, where the wolf is at the door, with the poverty and sorrow stricken, yet ever prayerful, Christian wife, the knee is bent, and the prayer of penitence and trust and consecration is offered to the Heavenly Father who through Jesus the Christ said, "I was in prison and ye visited me." Will he stick, say they by the dozens, this long time, this awful sinner? Well, we think it best to be often in prayer and very often in helpfulness to him, fulfilling the law in such cases. But we do say that it is more than the faith of many would have reached to see him still, with very little of worldly hope, with sickness and want staring him in the face, holding on quietly, patiently in silence, or by graceful speech, witnessing of the power there is in the Great Salvation. A brother has been holding service on the street—he is approached as one who would be likely to help rescue a young girl, brought by a man now at large we are told, in Portland. When this (shall we call him) man finds the mother's power too strong over this girl, she is left utterly in destitution and alone, and on the very brink of that awful gulf which so fatally divides purity and shame. "Sow beside all waters." Quickly, when this case was brought to the notice of our co-laborer, the Woman's Relief Society, were there ways and means provided for the return of this girl to her family. Long-time drunkards are clothed and in their right minds—some with us, and one in whom many of you have been greatly interested, has gathered his once scattered family about him, and writes from San Francisco that he is now enjoying the happiest days of his life, and we gratefully make earthly record of it, and hasten, secondly, to our close, under the head of what we AIM TO DO THIS YEAR.

Go out upon our streets, and who are these we meet, very many of them? Not a gambling hell, not a leading saloon, and last, and by no means least, not a house of prostitution but has its runners. No sooner are there arrivals than these runners spot their victims. How many of these places are not run on the per cent.? Bring in your victims and you shall share a liberal "slice;" we know how to mix the drink. What fortunes are lost, how many lives made forever wretched, how many deaths by suicide, brought about by this system of runners! And we are to remember that this work goes steadily on; no revival seasons in Satan's kingdom. Brethren, citizens, all! we certify you that as we seek for words with which to tell you our aims, they seem sorely insufficient. We greatly desire you to know what we are ready, as unto Christ, to pledge ourselves to do, if you will but pronounce upon our (your) association your blessing in coin and prayer; for if we may not, as an association at least, display somewhat of the zeal and tireless energy of the runners referred to, we had best take in our sign and shut up shop! We need a strong hand—call it the right hand of the Church—reached out on our principal streets. We here publicly and most earnestly, in behalf of our association, welcome the return to Portland of one of her large-hearted citizens, by whose liberality this association has, for all these years, had free use of the very pleasant room we now occupy. But we should have more accessible accommodations.

We need at least two, and could well use three rooms. Our city library supplies a certain want. The floating class have but a short time; the business man coming to our city to purchase goods, often through with his work at an early hour, does not wish to read books, hence for all practical purposes the leading papers, magazines, etc., will fill the bill for the present. On one of our steamers, as he was leaving our city, said a business man to me: "I come often to Portland, get through with purchases in good season, then have the time to put in in a bar-room; can't keep quiet there, etc.; 'take a nip,' you know; can't loaf about a book-store, and so—well, it's my story; it's the story of many another who comes to Portland. Then its

WORSE PLACES.

Thank you for your invitation to the Y. M. C. A.; I'll come there after this." We suppose he came before we had additions to our paper files, took up one of our patent-office reports, tried to get interested in tracing out how Jones got a patent for a flywheel on a smut machine; glancing up at the cobwebs, hanging in graceful though dirty festoons, sighs for the fleshpots, and "the old story." Patent-office reports may be good in their place, but they are not just the thing to catch young men with red blood in them.

Says the leading pastor and Christian teacher of one of our Eastern cities, "We are happy to know that all or nearly all of the churches in this city are slowly, yet surely, moving toward the repossession of the glad and happy things which ought never to have been given over to the world and its prince. Music, literature, tableaux and parlor dramatics, chess, checkers, backgammon and non-gambling games generally." Shall we in Portland "allow those pleasures to soak through unwilling walls of prejudice, instead of being introduced through open doors by sunshiny Christians? For while, no doubt, all sins are in their times pleasures, it by no means follows that all pleasures are sins!" Our associations needs rooms made glad and happy in these sunshiny ways. Framed and hung behind bars, and in saloons, hotel offices and in many other places does vice, decked with a thousand allurements, appeal to taste, impulse and passion. What have we to offset this? Patent office reports and Harvey's Meditations Among the Tombs, and bare walls won't do it, that's certain. A hearty hand shake, an invitation to dinner, too, has saved many a young man. Give them a taste of your own sweet, pure home if you would sicken them of bar-rooms and brothels. If you want to close up saloons steal their customers. In for different scenes and in another association we remember what we used to call our family prayer, which consisted of a short passage from the scriptures, a short hymn and prayer, held every night at 9 o'clock, in the rooms. Many young men availed themselves of this opportunity for evening prayers. It was nearest of anything they could have to the old family altar. Home came back again, and fathers and mothers who, perhaps, had joined the happy family above, seemed to come back and meet us there. And did they not? It was good to send young men back to hotels or lonely rooms filled with such sacred memories and fresh impulses to a better life. We want such an altar in our rooms here. Not make one of our rooms a prayer room! We would as soon think of being a Christian without Christ. It would not be doing justice to the Association in its new departure not to say a word about the out-door meetings held every Sunday, at half-past 3 P. M., on the street corner. Many have followed the workers from these meetings either to the theater or our room, there to testify by earnest inquiry and marked attention, their influence upon them. We have great hopes concerning this method of seed sowing, and with calm assurance testify our faith that in God's time and way these scattered seeds will spring up and bear fruit to the glory of God.

Again and finally, we say, lend us your aid in coin and prayer; then adding to these our earnest labors, we may give you such an account of our stewardship one year hence as shall strengthen your faith and gladden your hearts.

"Then, brother man, fold to thy heart thy brother. For where love dwells the peace of God is there. To worship rightly is to love each other—
Each smile a hymn, each kindly deed a prayer."

Fraternally submitted,
M. C. WILKINSON, President.

Following the report a solo was sung by Rev. Mr. Chattin, the active secretary of the Association, the chorus of which was heartily joined in by the large audience.

Dr. Lindsley, at the announcement of the president, came forward and delivered an earnest and eloquent address in behalf of the claims of the Association, its aim, and the substantial fruits of its operation in Portland.

Rev. Mr. Bentley, after the 948th hymn was sung, was introduced to the congregation and made a most stirring appeal in aid of the good cause.

Singing followed, when Capt. Wilkinson addressed the congregation for a few moments in his most practical and efficient style.

A collection was taken up, from which the sum of $431 was realized in coin and subscriptions. Mr. Wadhams stated the sum of $600 50 had already been pledged to be paid in monthly installments, which with what had already been realized, would swell the sum to $1,031 50.

The doxology was then sung, and the congregation dismissed.

A Self-Advertising Remedy.

There are certain proprietary articles that advertise themselves. Among these are Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It may be truly said of this celebrated remedy for disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, and antidote to malaria, that the contents of every bottle is an advertisement, since its good effects so decidedly and promptly advertise themselves as invariably to elicit favorable comment from those who use it. This is particularly true in rural neighborhoods invaded by chills and fever, and other types of malaria, for which it is a recognized specific. Such disorders being quiescent, the question "What is the best remedy and safeguard?" naturally presents itself to everybody in this vicinity, and is made the subject of general inquiry. A family benefited by the Bitters communicates the fact to the neighbors, who in turn become patrons of the great remedy, and proclaim its efficacy. This explains why it has become the most popular of American household medicines, and why its popularity is continually on the increase.

BLIGHTED AFFECTION.

THE STORY OF THE YOUNG MAN WHO WAS "SHOOK."

[From the Detroit Free Press.]

"What I want to know," said a white-headed young man of twenty, as he stood before the sergeant in charge of the Central Station, yesterday, "what I came here for was to get some advice."

"Proceed," said the sergeant.

"You know Nancy Thompson, don't you?"

"Never heard of her."

"Well, she's a widder, over forty years old, and I've been boarding there."

"Yes?"

"And we were engaged to be married."

"Whew!" whistled the officer.

"I don't blame you," continued the young man, in a broken voice. "I'm only twenty, and she's forty, but a man can't always tell when he's going to make a fool of himself."

"And you fell in love?"

"I did that, and as soon as we get through talking I'm going to hire some one to kick me over to Canada and back! Yes, sir, fell dead in love—loved a woman of over forty."

"And what followed?"

"What followed? Why, what alters fellers? I'm human, same's anybody else, and when I love, I love like a locomotive on a down grade. What do you think I did in just six weeks by the watch? Went to the theater sixteen times, out sleigh-riding twelve times, had three parties, went to three lectures, and took her out to eat oysters ten or eleven times. Fact, sir, —cost me durn near $200."

"But it was all for love," replied the sergeant.

"I thought so; but what else did I do? Bought her a $40 watch, a $10 bracelet, a $5 ring, a $7 set of jewelry, a new dress, and gave her a $5 gold piece with a hole in it! Yes, sir, I drew $500 from the bank—every red I had—and used it up on her!"

"And then?"

"She pretended to love back, and when I squoze her hand she smiled, and smiled, and looked heaps of love at me. She'd lean on my arm, talk about Cupid, and git off poetry by the rod, and it was plainly understood that we were to be married in June. Oh, she know her biz, and she slid around me as the Bengal tiger does around a lamb!"

"Did she break the engagement?"

"Last night," said the young man, swallowing the lump in his throat, "she told me she'd been trifling with me all along. She said she was engaged to another man, and she could never be more than a sister to me! I tell you, sergeant, you could have knocked me down with a straw! I braced up after a while and called her a hypocrite, when she called me a white-headed idiot, and the boarders threw me out of doors. Five hundred dollars gone, and I'm a wrecked man!"

He blew his nose and wiped his eyes, and continued:

"I don't want to drown myself; the water's awful cold, and perhaps I can get over this. I want them presents back, and I'll go to Muskegon and try and forget her. It's wrenched me all to pieces, I can never love again. Were you ever shook, sergeant?"

"No, never."

"Then you don't know the anguish—the griping around the heart. It cuts like a knife, and all I can think of is being laid out in a coffin, my right hand holding a bunch of roses and my left resting on my heart."

"You are young—you may outgrow it."

"I may—I may, but it's so awful sudden, and hits so hard, that I feel as if I had fallen from a house. Go to the house, sergeant, and see if you can get them things back. If I'm alive I'll be around again to-morrow, and if I don't some you may keep the things for your kindness. I'm white-headed, but I'm tender-hearted, and I want to retire behind some barn and sit down and think."

And he retired.

A PERSEVERING AUTHOR.

Chambers' Journal says: Some forty years ago, it is said, a lady called upon Mr. Longman, head of the publishing firm in Paternoster Row, and pleaded: "Give me the subject of a book for which the world has a need, and I will write it for you."

Mr. Longman asked—"Are you an author?"

"I am a poet," was the reply; "but the world does not want poems."

The publisher remarked a little dubiously: "Well, we want a good cookery book."

"Then," said the lady, "you advise me to write a cookery book?"

Cautiously the publisher rejoined: "I should advise you so to do, if I were confident of your ability to write a good one."

Well, years went by; and, during those years, cooks and epicures and housewives in all parts of England were besieged for recipes to be forwarded to the address of a certain lady. The lady's own flattering letters or persuasive speech elicited from the cooks themselves the information required or enlisted the cooks' masters and mistresses on her side; and "the result of her exertions, carried on for many years with equal resoluteness and good temper, was the 'Modern Cookery in all its Branches,' published in 1845, which continues to hold its place in the esteem of housewives." Its author was Miss Acton, who "derived from her one great work an adequate provision for the remainder of her life."

FATHER POLAND AS A PUNCH MAKER.

Washington correspondence of the Rochester Express.]

Even Poland likes his "tod." I would rather count all the money in the treasury, which has to be done before Spinner leaves, than undertake to tell you how many cocktails have disappeared inside of that old blue coat, all buttoned down before. When he first came here, some of the old boys thought it would be a splendid thing to see old dignity P. "how come you so," so they attempted to "put up a job" on him. A stag party was inaugurated, and the waiter was implicitly instructed to give the member from Vermont a double dose every time. This he faithfully carried out, but what was the astonishment of all when every time the wine went round, the old duffer complained of the weakness of his beverage, and made the waiter brace it up. They had reckoned beyond their host. He was as bright as a new shilling in the morning, and as he gazed on the prostrate forms of the conspirators, like Alexander, he sighed for more—history—to conquer.

The joke leaked out, and the Green Mountain boy set his wits to work to retaliate. On a certain evening he invited the same parties to a kind of a hot scotch masquerade. The guests assembled on time. Forth is brought the whisky, smoking hot. It was not long before it was discovered that the punch was too strong. "Add some more hot water," said the judge.

The suggestion was acted upon, and again and again the water was added, still the stronger the beverage became. It was wonderful. Finally it was decided that the strength was only in the imagination of the drinkers! This decision was, however, reversed when the gay worshipers at the shrine of Bacchus sought the soft side of a plank for a downy couch. There was some talk of a partition of Poland the next day; when it was discovered that the magic kettle which was supposed to contain water was full of whisky all the time, and every drop added, therefore, only made the punch stronger.

Latest Liverpool wheat quotations are 9s 3d@9s 7d for average California, and 9s 5d@10s for club.

There are but few occurrences to note in financial circles. As the season progresses there is some increase in the sources of demand for loanable funds, but the aggregate inquiry is not enlarging to such an extent as to produce any decided hardening tendency in rates, which have shown no material fluctuation for several weeks. There is some complaint of a lack of promptness in remittances from the interior, but it is not general and most merchants here find but little fault in that regard. In fact, the amounts which they have outstanding this season are not large compared with others, thanks to the policy pursued of selling on short time or for cash, and giving credit only to those who had shown in their disposition to "come to time" under all circumstances.

The jobbing trade of the city usually slackens up somewhat on Saturday, but to-day business has been nearly up to the average of the week. The retail trade, both in imported goods and domestic produce, shows a fair degree of activity, with no changes in quotations.

The continued lack of animation in the wheat market is a noticeable feature, and leads to the belief that the remaining surplus in the State is much smaller than has generally been supposed. The San Francisco wheat market still holds its firmness, but heavy arrivals of both wheat and flour appear to have at least temporarily checked any tendency to appreciation in the prices of breadstuffs in that country. While there is comparatively nothing doing in wheat in our home market there is a fair amount of transactions noted in flour, and shipments both to northern ports and to San Francisco are still quite significant.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Ajax left San Francisco for this port at noon to-day.

The barkentine Ella, with a cargo of assorted merchandise, arrived at her berth at Flanders' wharf at 7 o'clock this evening. She will begin to discharge on Monday.

The German bark Gazelle is discharging her cargo of imported wines, liquors, etc.

The barkentine Portland is about due from San Francisco.

BARLEY—There are but few transactions occurring. Quotable at $1 25 per 100 lbs for common, and $1 35@1 40 for choice. The demand is fair.

MUTTON SHEEP—Few lots are arriving; quotable at $3 50@4 per head for choice.

WOOL—The prospect of a fair demand and better prices for the spring clip are not discouraging. There will probably appear at 25c ₱ lb; common, 20@22c. Wool sacks, to hold 180@220 lbs, are quotable here at 65@85c each.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose healthy tissues they pervade, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear. Such are Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Exhaustion and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, humors, and dandruff, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

Buckingham's Dye,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other unsuitable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.
